DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
NATIONAL BOARD FOR THE PROMOTION OF RIFLE PRACTICE
WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

FOREWORD

Section 113 of the National Defense Act of 1916, as amended, provides that there shall be held an annual competition known as the National Matches, together with a Small Arms Firing School, which competition and school shall be held annually under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Army.

The National Matches are required to consist of rifle and pistol matches, to be open to all components of the Services comprising the Armed Forces of the United States, the Reserve Officer's Training Corps, rifle clubs and civilians, for the purpose of competing for National Trophies, medals and other prizes, and, in addition, competitions for which trophies and medals are provided for by the National Rifle Association of America (Act 14 February 1927 (44 Stat. 1095) and Act 28 May 1928 (45 Stat. 786). Regulations governing the National Matches are prescribed by the Secretary of the Army upon recommendation of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice.

The National Matches are considered to be the ultimate in an overall integrated national program which has for its purpose the promotion of rifle and pistol marksmanship training among able-bodied citizens of the United States. These matches are made possible through the cooperation of organizations whose members believe that both individual and team marksmanship are essential to an adequate National Defense.

The primary mission of the Small Arms Firing School is to bring to civilians and members of the various Reserve Components of the Armed Forces of the United States, not reached through training programs conducted within the active Military Services, information concerning methods of instruction which will assist them in promoting interest and raising the standard of performance in the use of individual arms by the citizenry of our country.

Under the tutelage of specially selected and trained instructors from the United States Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, the Provost Marshal General's School, Fort Gordon, Georgia, and from all branches of the Military Services, approximately 6,000 students received the benefits of excellent, well-organized courses of instruction on preparatory marksmanship, aspects of the individual weapons, safety factors and other techniques of instruction, which not only prepares the student to instruct others in the effective use of firearms, but stresses the importance of attaining individual proficiency with the rifle and pistol.

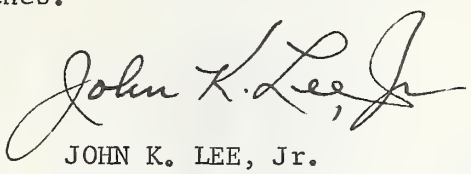
An increase in participation of State Civilian Rifle and Pistol teams was noted. From funds appropriated by Congress to the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice for this purpose, 41 civilian rifle teams and 41 civilian pistol teams traveled to Camp Perry this year and competed in the National Matches. For the third consecutive year, two junior rifle shooters were authorized to accompany each rifle team to Camp Perry and participate in the National Matches. The Ohio National Guard was host to 21 pistol teams and 43 National Guard rifle teams attending the matches.

The United States Army, in conjunction with the National Rifle Association, was primarily responsible for the planning, organization and conduct of the matches.

The facilities of Camp Perry, for many years the site of the National Matches, were greatly improved this year. Camp Perry is made available to the United States Army and the National Rifle Association by the Adjutant General, State of Ohio.

Approximately 8,000 competitors attended the 1962 National Matches. The support rendered by personnel of the United States Army, United States Navy, United States Marine Corps, United States Air Force, United States Coast Guard, and other agencies, such as Erie Army Depot and the Army Ordnance Corps, contributed greatly to making the 1962 National Matches an outstanding competitive event.

As Executive Officer of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, I wish to thank the above-cited organizations and personnel, National Match officials and all others who contributed so significantly to the success of the 1962 National Matches.



JOHN K. LEE, Jr.
Colonel, GS
Executive Officer
